

Further to the new GDPR law which is in effect on 25th May 2018,

Our policy is only to hold Names, addresses and contact numbers.

The Personal or Company details we hold are only used:

To process orders with you for goods and/or services.

To administer and manage our mutual relationship.

To comply with applicable laws, regulations and rules.

To notify you of changes.

Our database is only accessible to staff directly involved with sales and purchasing or who require information on our customers and company approved suppliers.

We hope that you are happy for us to store your information for the mutual benefit of both parties.

However, if you wish to amend the primary contact details of yourself or your Company, or indeed wish for us to remove your details from our database, please send an email to mail@pcswelding.co.uk
